MATH LESSON 'SCREENCAST'

CRITERIA	RATINGS				PTS
Teacher Presence/Lesson Narration view longer description	5 to >4.5 pts Excellent Teacher is actively 'present' in the lesson; students can 'see' the teacher on the screen! Narrative is clear and easy to understand. The narrative is highly expressive and makes the content enjoyable to listen to. Uses academic language, appropriate for the grade level, that illustrates understanding and learning for the content being taught.	4.5 to >2.5 pts Satisfactory Teacher is 'present' in the lesson. Narrative is easy to understand. Some academic language is used that illustrates satisfactory understanding and learning for the content being taught. 🔺	2.5 to >0 pts Needs Improvement Teacher 'presence' is not well established in the lesson. Narration is relatively clear and easy to understand. Could be improved with attention to pacing and use of academic language for understanding.	0 pts Unacceptable No teacher presence in the lesson. Narrative is difficult to understand and/or is not included in the lesson presented.	3.5 / 5 pts

Comments
Since K's have limited attention span I would only put 1 slash across the object so it didn't take so long to count.

MATH LESSON 'SCREENCAST'

CRITERIA	RATINGS				PTS
Use of Visual on Screen view longer description	3 to >2.5 pts Excellent Lesson screencast is well thought out and designed by the use of appropriate visuals. Visuals were created or shown that assisted with teaching the lesson in a logical format. Visuals used were highly appropriate and complimented the standard/topic being taught. ▲	2.5 to >1.5 pts Satisfactory Lesson screencast uses visuals that satisfactorily represent the content being taught. Most of the visuals used represented the content well, but at times selection could have been improved for the clarity of the skills being taught.	1.5 to >0 pts Needs Improvement Lesson screencast uses visuals that do not enhance content being taught in an online format. Effort was not made to design/select visuals that would engage and enhance the content being taught.	0 pts Uacceptable Uses no visuals in the screencast or visuals selected distract from the lesson being taught. Visuals were not appropriate for the lesson being taught.	3 / 3 pts
	Comments Great animation!
